All of our lobbies have reopened—a few things to know.

At Southwest Federal Credit Union, the health and safety of our members and employees are our top priority, which is why our team may continue to mask up for our safety and yours. If you're fully vaccinated, masks are optional when you visit a branch. If you're not, please wear a mask. We will continue to employ social distancing best practices as we see necessary.

Appointments for new accounts and loans are not required, however if you plan to visit a branch, we recommend that you make an appointment with a Member Service Representative or Loan Officer to avoid wait times. We apologize in advance for any extended wait times and thank you for your patience while we work towards opening fully. If you prefer contactless options, we will continue to work with members by utilizing electronic signatures for certain documents.

Please do not visit a branch if you've experienced any of the following in the last 15 days, in accordance with the CDC:

- You've had a fever, difficulty breathing, a cough or other cold symptoms.
- You've had contact with anyone suspected of having or confirmed as having COVID-19.
- You've traveled outside of New Mexico to anywhere with a travel advisory in place.

Retirement: Challenges Ahead

"The biggest challenge for most people is they under-save for retirement. They can work in retirement, but unfortunately 50% of Americans end up retiring before they had planned for three reasons: The first reason is their health, the second reason is their spouse's health and the third reason is that their services are no longer necessary and they were terminated."

Dan Houston, CEO of Principal Financial Group, from "5 Reasons to Claim Social Security at Age 70," U.S. News & World Report.

U.S. News & World Report, November 30, 2020.
